

Swiss Re Portal - the Gateway to the World of Reinsurance

2 Oct 2000 CET Press Release

Swiss Re Portal goes online at www.swissre.com/portal. A further product in the Swiss Re e-business applications range is thus being launched, giving visitors rapid access to comprehensive information on the subject of risk as well as to services and interactive business processes.

Go to Swiss Re Portal

Swiss Re Portal is a broad platform for promoting dialogue with customers, investors, the media and other interested groups. It is also a professional 'Reception Desk' which directs visitors rapidly, easily and, above all, directly to the information they are seeking. The main features of the new portal embody aspects that are important for all users: comprehensive and clearly structured content, rapid access to the current information they need, and direct access to e-business applications.

Among the features the portal offers are a broad selection of statistical data and analyses from sigma research. Over 50 current field-news items from 300 different sources are made available to visitors, and there is a clear, thematically structured list of the hyperlinks necessary for obtaining all-round information on the insurance sector. "CatNet", the interactive, multifunctional world atlas for determining local and regional risk probabilities in the area of natural disasters, is a particularly interesting feature.

Moreover, this "gateway" gives Swiss Re customers rapid access to ELRiX the Web-based platform for electronic trading in risks, and ELRAC, the new system for electronic policy management.

By offering users various options ranging from modification of layout to targeted selection of current news and inclusion of special hyperlinks, Swiss Re Portal enables them to create an individual virtual workplace that is adapted to their own specific needs.
