

92%

of P&C insurers expect Big Data to generate significant improvements in pricing, underwriting and risk selection in the coming years.

P&C Analytics is powering this next, now!

Your Needs

Quality data

Insurers struggle to gain access to reliable and accurate statistical data. Majority of the available data is often disaggregated, unstructured and generally underutilised.

Tools & models

The burden of technology expertise and investment is becoming a big threat for smaller carriers.

Knowledge & expertise

Most carriers are challenged by analytics-related issues, including resource availability, training, skills and capabilities.

Powered by P&C Analytics

Largest data pool

One of the largest risk and insurance data pools worldwide, tailored to local markets.

Granularity in pricing, portfolio steering – leveraging not only your and our portfolio data, but also external data sources.

Proprietary models and tools

Broad range of analytical tools and methods for more precise pricing, market growth strategies and the assessment of your risk exposure.

150 years of risk expertise
