I very much enjoyed the simulation,
which is close to reality
in how things affect the business.

Client testimony

Put down the phone.
You're buzzing.
A top job. An executive manager.
They've asked you.

Welcome to the Insurance Management Simulation.

You are part of an executive management team of a small to medium P&C insurer active within a competitive market place. You will need to generate attractive returns for your shareholders, while providing a stable capital base and appropriate risk appetite for sustainable performance.

Our IMS programme will teach you the key drivers of shareholder value, including underwriting portfolio, capital structure, ALM, solvency and reinsurance requirements. You will manage projects from big data to sustainability and from consumer experience to product innovation.

As 2–3 day programme, either virtual or on site, the IMS will bring you together with colleagues, demanding teamwork and a full appreciation of how an insurer functions across the silos. The programme is offered in four languages.

Up for the challenge? For a course that will change how you view an insurance company?
