

Anette Bronder

Appointed as Group Chief Operating Officer and member of Group Executive Committee as of 1 July 2019

Professional experience

Anette Bronder started her career with Hewlett Packard GmbH, specializing in IT and Consulting, and held a number of senior management positions. She was responsible for large delivery, consulting and services organizations, and was Director Software Service for Central & Eastern Europe. In 2010 she was appointed Director of Enterprise Technology at Vodafone Germany and from 2013 to 2015 was the Director of Enterprise Technology for Vodafone Group worldwide in London. In 2015 Anette Bronder joined T-Systems International as Director Digital Division where she oversaw the new growth areas of Internet of Things and Public Cloud for Deutsche Telekom. In 2017 she took on additional responsibility for the Deutsche Telekom Security Portfolio and the internal Deutsche Telekom Security Operations.

Anette Bronder, born 1967, is a German citizen.

External appointments

- Board member of Ströer SE
- Board member of Elumeo SE
- Member of the Supervisory board of the German Research Center for Artificial Intelligence

Educational background

- Master in Economics and Social Sciences, University of Stuttgart